Overview

ShagSlags.com is actually a favorite site but that positively doesn't allow legit. We went undercover joining the internet site so we could see directly precisely what men and women would discover should they joined it. We're experts in uncovering matchmaking frauds, that's been our goal for over 5 years today and we carry on exploring any brand new internet dating sites that individuals select. Shag Slags could be the focus nowadays's investigation and all of the data including difficult details and proof are available for you in review that individuals've composed below.

ShagSlags Is Actually A „Fantasy Provider“ According To Their Site

Before we joined up with this web site, smack dab throughout the front of the homepage the web site desires one agree to the aid of their fantasy service including using artificial users (amongst other items). Proprietors with this website consider their own dating solution perhaps not a dating service but a „fantasy activity solution“. This is a lot different from a dating service. ShagSlags.com is actually a fantasy entertainment solution definition its an internet site providing you with fantasy entertainment, AKA entertaining you with issues that are not genuine. This site isn't actual, its a mirage, an illusion and definitely not the best dating internet site.

„Fantasy Profiles“ Aren't Real People In The Website

Additionally found on the first page for the web site they desire you to understand that females that are available in images on the internet site are the thing that they call „fantasy profiles“ AKA artificial profiles is probably not actual people in the website. These include letting you know right this great site utilizes fake pages. You must understand all things in the profiles tend to be fake. The images are artificial, everything within the picture profile web page normally phony. These online dating profiles have already been produced by staff who do work on the behalf of website. Normally maybe not real ladies who joined up with the website, produced a dating profile looking to satisfy one to satisfy all of them. That isn't after all what's going on right here. What exactly is actually happening like we said is the workers of ShagSlag tend to be generating artificial pages to entice you into signing up for their site and purchasing credit with your charge card. Inturn they generate a lot of money from your gullibility.

The Conditions Page Demonstrates That A Lot Of Pages Are Bogus

Also based in the stipulations page the website confides in us that a lot of associated with profiles on ShagSlags.com are artificial. In addition they explain why these phony users happen created merely to change emails with customers. The main reason these are generally created is because it will cost you money to answer any messages delivered through the artificial relationship users the internet site is actually creating. Its an extremely fancy scheme that pulls in thousands and thousands and sometimes even countless weight per year!

Profile Pictures

All over the place they tell us they are the ones accountable for the fabrication of made up untruthful pages on their own platform. They confess that users have pictures which are not connected with anyone just who actually signed up with their site. But we planned to understand where these photos had been via. These are typically genuine photographs it's simply your women in the profiles have not created a dating profile on the internet site, staff members on the site are using their pictures (most likely without their fee) to generate these pretend profile pages. Below we have incorporated three artificial pages but also incorporated website links and you'll discover those very same pictures on different web pages. This is just more evidence that this site is indeed a full-fledged scam process.

Messages Tend To Be Fake As Admitted To During The Terms Page

In the event that you consider the screenshot below (circled in purple) it is going to show that there is received 402 emails to the inbox. Unbelievable! In case you are taking a glance at the terms and conditions web page in section 2.3.c it mentions that profiles are fictitious as well as have already been created merely to exchange messages with people. Like we have now currently discussed they will have created digital users which are used to deliver individuals imagine communications. The emails are completely make believe and sent in the hopes which you make an effort to talk right back. At that time you will end up expected to improve and purchase credit. Whenever we planned to respond to the 402 emails that we was given it might be priced at us some over £400.00! keep in mind each one of these communications are not actual, these are generally entirely fake. We might have wasted £400.00 responding to low present people and fake cam communications!

(this might be a screenshot showing the 402 imitation emails that we had gotten.)

The Stipulations Inform Us The Reality

The terms and conditions web page ended up being a treasure-trove of proof. All things are indeed there in black-and-white for everyone to find out if you wish to take the time and read the stipulations page. They admit which they make use of fictitious pages. They confess which they send emails which are automatically generated without any people really delivering you those chat communications. They also acknowledge that pages they develop such as the information text and photographs isn't really connected with any actual individual. In addition they acknowledge that they utilize artificial pages to get hold of people with computer-generated communications. Not only that additionally they declare which you cannot actually meet the artificial users that they're accountable for creating.

We have included the most important parts of the conditions and terms page below or you can select this link and stay used directly to the terms page.

- Yes, we make use of make believe users for testing behavioral/social researches as well as activity reasons. These individual profiles uploaded on the site are fictitious and are usually connected with the „Fantasy amusement“ (FE) solution. Our very own Fantasy Entertainment solution belongs to our efforts to stimulate discussion with people to promote further and wider involvement in all the Website's solutions, including the posting of additional information or photos to your users' users.
- Preliminary emails from your FE service might be automatically produced with no human participation, and 3rd party contractors hired or developed by united states may produce messages or communication from then on.
- You know that the info, book, and images within the FE service profiles cannot relate to almost any real individual but they are provided for activity functions just. Absolutely nothing contained in any FE service profile is meant to explain or look like any real person-living or dead.
- On one or higher events, FE profiles may get in touch with consumers through computer-generated communications to motivate further or broader engagement during the Website's services or perhaps to keep track of individual task. These messages can be carried to several users likewise.
- You acknowledge that no physical conference will ever happen between both you and the people supplying all of our FE service which the change of emails between both you and the FE is actually for activity purposes, also to motivate more or broader involvement in the Website's services or perhaps to supervise user activities.
